

Gabriel's 21st Showering Puzzle Hunt

Just Prior to April 25, 2014

Dear friends,

Congratulations on passing the first test! But if you want to shower me, you'll have to get into my room yourself. I've hidden my key somewhere safe; your task is to find it and use it to open my door. I've given you five additional tasks (2–6), attached, which you need to solve to find the location of the room and figure out what drawing you will need to create to receive it. Put the solutions to those tasks in the boxes below to figure out how to proceed. I suggest you split up and play to your strengths to get me showered as efficiently as you can. If ever you need a clue, you can knock on the door and you will receive.

Once you've figured out the location, check it with me before asking for my key. Good luck!

— The Eponymous Birthday Boy

The key is hidden in

2	3		4

In order to receive the key, you must present a recognizable grayscale drawing of a

5	6

Tasks 2–4 are attached.

Task 5: Outside my door is a stairway. At the top of the stairway, in the wall, there is a red object. What is the second word in the title of the 1950s film in which an alien is killed using a collection of these objects?

Task 6: What word do you get if you pronounce backwards the name of the dorm across the bridge from the dorm I lived in last year?